From the cathedral quarter to Plaza de España

Walk from Seville’s monumental centre toward the broad spaces by María Luisa Park. Four outdoor stops connect the cathedral quarter, Puerta de Jerez, the former tobacco factory exterior and Plaza de España.

1.72 km / 4 stops / 50-75 min with pauses / one way

1. Plaza del Triunfo

2. Puerta de Jerez

3. Royal Tobacco Factory exterior

4. Plaza de España

Start & finish

Start in Plaza del Triunfo outside the cathedral and Alcázar precincts. Finish in Plaza de España. Arrange your return separately; the route does not return to the starting square.

Make it shorter

Finish at Puerta de Jerez if the heat or crowds are tiring. Continue toward the park only when conditions are comfortable.

Look closer at each stop

01 Plaza del Triunfo

The square puts the cathedral, Alcázar walls and Archivo de Indias in one setting. Look at how each building meets the public space without entering any ticket queue.

Next: 500 m to stop 2. Route includes Calle Fray Ceferino González, Avenida de la Constitución.

02 Puerta de Jerez

Pause beside the open square and orient yourself toward the university and park. Cross tram tracks and roads only at designated pedestrian crossings.

Next: 609 m to stop 3. Route includes Calle Palos de la Frontera, Paseo Profesor Enrique Valdivieso.

03 Royal Tobacco Factory exterior

View the long former factory building from the public street. Its broad, regular frontage makes a contrast with the cathedral quarter’s enclosed spaces.

Next: 612 m to stop 4. Route includes Avenida de El Cid, Glorieta de San Diego, Avenida Isabel la Católica.

04 Plaza de España

Finish at the sweeping square and notice the relationship between its curved building, canal and open centre. Explore only the areas available to pedestrians on the day.

Underfoot & access

Mostly paved streets and squares with exposed sunny stretches, road crossings and tram tracks. Heat can make a short distance demanding. Stairs and bridges within Plaza de España are optional.

Before you go

Cathedral and Alcázar tickets are not included in this exterior walk. Check local heat and weather conditions and any park closures. Take water and choose a cooler part of the day.
